What makes a great sports betting app

A beautifully-crafted sports betting app must also deliver what bettors crave most: all of the features they would expect to enjoy when wagering at a retail sportsbook or on a sportsbook's website.

The best sports betting apps should mirror and improve upon the features users enjoy when confirming their picks elsewhere.

Some features to look for include bonuses and promotions, early cash out, and live streaming. Bet types

A sportsbook app should offer a broad selection of sports and bet types while making it easy for its users to locate, preview, and submit their bets.

Popular wagers include the moneyline, Over/Under (totals), point spreads, futures, teasers, props, same game parlays, and live betting. Banking options

But the top sportsbooks in the nation go above and beyond to keep your funds safe and ensure no harm will come to your device.

Look for a mobile app with two-step verification, timed logouts, and precise geolocation software.

Utah is so opposed to gambling that the code actually goes out of its way to say online gambling will stay illegal even if it is legalized at the federal level.

From a betting perspective, the top two Utah teams are likely in one sport: football.

The University of Utah Utes and Brigham Young University Cougars college football teams are the two most popular teams in any sport in the state and would likely receive the largest handle if betting were legal and bettors could bet on in-state college teams.

Major League Soccer's Real Salt Lake has been a regular in the postseason the past decade and even won the MLS Cup in 2009.

2022: There have been no attempts to legalize sports betting in Utah since the Professional and Amateur Sports Protection Act (PASPA) was overturned in 2018.

David Haskins said betting on horse races could help those from Utah involved in horse racing make money in the state instead of its border states.

Anyone claiming to offer legal wagering is doing so against the law.
