The most common decision a player must make during the game is whether to draw another card to the hand ("hit"), or stop at the current total ("stand") Tj T* BT /F

When the dealer turns up an Ace, he will offer "insurance" to the players.

You tie with the $10, but collect 2:1 on the $5 insurance bet for a total profit of $10.

The problem is that you are still making a bad bet on insurance, which costs you money.

Generally, the dealer in blackjack must hit if he has a total of 16 or less, and stand if he has 17 or more.

The dealer will stand with any total of 17 or more, whether that total is "soft" or not.
